

QUESTIONS TO ASK AN INTERVIEWER

WHY?

Asking questions at an interview is a great way of showing an interest in the company but also an opportunity for you to find out more information to help you make a decision yourself on whether the company and the role is right for you

10 QUESTIONS YOU MIGHT LIKE TO ASK AT AN INTERVIEW...

- 1 What is the company organisational structure and how does this role fit into the organisation as a whole?
- 2 What is the size of the team the role is in?
- 3 Can you describe what a typical day in this role would involve?
- 4 What will the training for this role be and is there a specific timescale for training?
- 5 What is the reason for this position being vacant?
- 6 How long have you been at this company?
- 7 What are the plans for the company going forward?
- 8 What is the company environment/culture like?
- 9 What potential opportunities may there be further down the line for the right candidate who performs well in this role?
- 10 What is the next step and at what stage will there be a decision on the role?
